My name is Abraiya Hernandez and I am in my 2nd year of all star competitive cheerleading. Ever since I could talk, my moms says Ive wanted to be a cheerleader. I love everything about the sport and dedicate 4 hours (in gym) and 10 hours (out of gym) a week. Something about going out on the mat and having people cheer you on, knowing you have put so much into it, excited me. I want nothing more than to become a professional cheerleader and influencer for all things cheer related. Some of my achievements is becoming a rebel athletic ambassador. It allows me to express myself while doing what I absolutely love. As its only my 2nd season, I havent faced any challenges yet; but looking forward to when I do as it will only make me mentally stronger.

My mom, Dana Brown, is a true inspiration to me. I lost my mom when I was 11 y/o and my father shortly after when I turned 13 y/o. Life wasn't always easy for me, but my mom always encouraged me to truly be myself and stand in my truth. As I grew older, I realized that all of the advice and knowledge I acquired over the years truly came into fruition. I learned to love myself and learn to love what it is that I do. I am currently on my last year studying Psychology at The University of North Texas and I plan to graduate and attend grad school where I'll earn a Doctorate degree in Child Psychology. My end goal is to remind everyone that they are human and we should not be ashamed for being sad, angry or fearful of the different things we encounter. What comes with building trust with one's feelings and emotions, comes self compassion and self confidence. I want to be someone who is confident enough to take on new hobbies. To try new things and to not be so fearful on the "What if he/she/they don't like this?". So here I am, modeling. Giving model a true go. Learning that in order to be comfortable, I have to be uncomfortable. And I love everything about it so far. Being free and allowing myself to be Anisah. Just like my mom wanted.

My name is Brookelyn and I am 13 years old. The things that I enjoy the most are cheerleading and dance. I also love competing in beauty pageants. I love being on stage and performing for an audience. If I could give all of the girls in the world a word of advice, I would tell them to be unique and let their own light shine! True beauty comes from within and is shown in the way we treat others, so always be kind!

My Name is Natalie Forbes Neal. I'm 56 years old and the reigning and first ever Ms. Exquisite Full-Figured USA Pennsylvania 2023. My platform is "Gratitude Through Grief". I became a widow at 53 years old after 32 years of marriage to the love of my life Robert Neal. Although a devastating and tragic loss, I am grateful even in my grief. I am grateful because through the loss I've had the opportunity of self discovery. I am grateful for having three over decades of love I am very grateful to know what love looks like. What it feels like to be cherished, wanted, and admired for the person that I am. I am grateful to have had grown up and grown with my soulmate from the time that I was 19 years old.

Grief hurts, and looking for the light is a challenge that I do every single day with purpose. Seeking light is not easy when you are in darkness and in pain. Discovering a new path after great loss is difficult but one that can be done when you stop and truly look at your pain, but recognize all the good things that you are now because of who you were before the loss.

I am still discovering who I am every single day. But the one thing that I recognize being a queen now, is that I always was. Photos Credits: Charles Mitchell
