My name is Alex Thompson, and I have been playing ice hockey since I was three years old. I began my hockey journey in Beijing, China, and continued playing for two years when I moved to Canada. Later, I joined the Berlin Blues team in Berlin, where I traveled to different ice camps throughout Europe to enhance my skills. Despite changing teams and locations, my loyalty to the Toronto Maple Leafs, my favorite NHL team, remains unshakeable.

Throughout my journey, I have achieved numerous accomplishments in ice hockey, having played for teams in three different countries. With every experience, I have grown as a player, refining my techniques and strategies. However, I have also encountered challenges, including adapting to different teams' playing styles and cultures. But with determination and perseverance, I have overcome these obstacles, and I am currently playing for the Ice Hawks in South Africa.

In the future, I aspire to continue playing ice hockey professionally and to represent the Maple Leafs. My dream is to inspire the younger generation of hockey players, sharing my passion for the sport and teaching them what I have learned along the way. I am confident that my dedication, talent, and hard work will lead me to achieve my goals and turn my dreams into reality in the world of ice hockey.

The next Gary Payton? My name is Brian "Lil B" Joseph and I'm 8 years old from New York. I currently play AAU basketball for The Gauchos and for Rising Stars.

Basketball is my favorite thing to do and I practice every day either with my trainer, team practice, or with my Dad.

My dream is to first make it to North Carolina University and then to the NBA.

I attend a private school in Long Island where I am on the honor roll. I enjoy having fun with my friends, enjoy having fun with my brother Jax, and enjoy going to church.

My life is blessed and has been this way since I was born. I was a premie born at 27 weeks so I've been a fighter since birth. I am thankful to God for keeping my Mom and I safe and when people look at me, they would never know that that's my story.

To date I have been the selected as MVP in several leagues and tournaments, I have over 50 trophies, and my goal is to become the next POINT GOD out of New York.

Be on the look out because I GOT NEXT!

use your brain on and off the field. Just like in school I think, when I'm on the field I think and nothing else matters except getting that ball, blocking, and running my touchdown. I'm that guy.

do. If I can't do that then I will Coach an NFL team and we're going to win the Superbowl. One of my biggest dreams is to meet Odell Beckham and BESTMODE because they are the best on the field to me and I look up to them. At 5u I was Homecoming king and 6u I was homecoming Prince. I have over eight rings that my team and I have won in tournaments and championships within 2 years. I was runner up for EYSN Linebacker of the year in 2022 and I brought home the "TRE TRE" Truman

Hard work pays off, with the help from my mom, my dad, my quarterback and most importantly my coaches especially my head "Coach C-Dogg" he's been my coach since I was 5 and I love him. I love playing football all day everyday and I just get better and better every time. I am a top performer at School in my grade level, my teachers love me and I love school. Domonique Nolton

My name is Domonique Nolton and I am 7 years old. My first time playing football I was 3 years old and my dad coached me. My position then was linebacker for DeKalb yellow jackets. When the pandemic started we couldn't play football, but when we were able to I started playing 5u football for my cousins organization RDU. We had an undefeated season and my recognition took off from there. My position then was running back and Linebacker and I started on both. After that season was over my team converted to ATL Elite 6u Ravens. Once again my team and I lead an undefeated season and won the Ayu Championship and came in second place at the Youth National Championship in Miami, but this year at 7u we are going to get our lick back and come out on top as the number one team in the nation. The challenges that I face from 3 years old to 5 years old was endurance. Training and practice at 3 years old was totally different than it was at 5 and 6 years old. My coaches had a totally different coaching/training styles that I wasn't used to but I overcame that. Running hills to build endurance and strength I didn't like doing it because I would get tired but Now when it's time for drills I have no complaints. I have always been bigger than most kids my age which is an advantage but unless you work hard it doesn't matter. When I grow up I want to be an NFL player like Odell Beckham and Marshawn Lynch AKA Beast Mode but they're going to call me Beastmaster, because I'm a beast at everything that I
