Aavah Johnson

My name is Aavah Johnson and I'm a competitive dancer at Studio Powers in Warner Robins, Georgia. I have been dancing competitively for 3 years and I'm loving every second of it.

My dreams as a young dancer are to one day become a choreographer and a professional model. I love to dance and I love being in front of the camera. My favorite genres are Jazz, Ballroom, Tap, Jazz Funk, and Hip Hop. My role models in dance are my coach, Jasmine Powers, Chloe Arnold, and Tawanna Hall.

This season I have my first trio and my goal is to place first in my division. My other goals this season are to learn new skills that I don't already know and to become better than I was the day before.

I am somewhat hard on myself, which is a challenge for me. I won't stop until I finally accomplish something that I have been working for. After failing at something more than once, I become upset. But on the positive side, it makes me want to accomplish it more.

I have received many scholarships in different dance genres at dance conventions. My favorite things about dance are learning new skills, traveling, meeting new people, and becoming better and better. I love dance and I am excited to see what this season holds for me and my team.

Daisia Ann

My name is Daisia Ann, I am seventeen years old and I have been dancing for fifteen years. I started at my local studio at two years old and ever since then I have had a love for being on stage. At six years old I began performing with Moscow Russian Ballet in their production of NUTCRACKER! I gained experience with a professional company and knew I belonged on stage. I took every opportunity I could to perform and began competing. During my nine years doing competitions I won first in overall high score multiple times for teams and duets. I continued dancing at my local studio until 2015 when I performed at Walt Disney World's Disney Springs (then called Downtown Disney). I trained in their studios in workshops with some of the best teachers at the time. The very next year I was chosen to perform at the 2016 Orange Bowl in Florida with the musical group, DNCE featuring Joe Jonas. I worked for months at home on the choreography and finally in late December me and a hundred other dancers walked onto the field to perform in front of millions. I went to high school where it became harder to perform due to being diagnosed with Autoimmune Thyroid Disease. Which is where my immune system attacks my thyroid so I am unable to produce metabolism. Which greatly affects my energy. However I powered through despite the frequent fatigue feeling and found a routine that works for me. I joined a performance company downtown and began performing for Moscow Russian Ballet once again and will be participating in their performance of NUTCRACKER! this December. I dream of one day taking my skills to a sports team dance team. Such as the Milwaukee Bucks Dancers, or the Dallas Cowboy Cheerleaders. I find great self esteem boosts from my time on stage and hyping up a crowd. I know that even if that dream does not become a reality I will always keep dancing despite the challenges.

Hi! This is Katerina Seregina. Dance is Katerina's passion because she loves doing it. She really enjoys ballet because it is so beautiful and precise, plus it really shows her plasticity. Contemporary is another one of Katerina's favorites because it is really expressive and emotional. Another style of dance that she really likes is jazz because it's sassy and energetic, and it pushes boundaries. Katerina Seregina is a competitive dancer, however she sometimes attends other dance events such as concerts or festivals. Katerina loves playing with different movements and creating new dance combos and solos. Her family is very supportive of what she does. An achievement of Katerina's is becoming the junior solo champion at Terpsichore Canada. She choreographed a huge chunk of her winning solo. Katerina Seregina has also recently gotten into the Top 10 at a national dance competition (NUVO). Again, she choreographed some of her solo. Thanks for reading!
