I am a scientist and photographer living in the Washington DC area. Early on, I was mainly a landscape and wildlife photographer. As an outdoor photographer, I was fortunate enough to travel to many countries on six continents and capture many unique and beautiful moments. In the past two years, I have become passionate about portrait photography capturing the spirit and essence of people. Being a scientist, I love experimenting with my photography whatever the genre.

I was fortunate enough to work with the amazingly talented Aurora. Aurora is 16 years old. She is passionate about acting, dancing, music, modeling, and horseback riding. The arts industry had an immense impact on her growing up. She aspires to be an artist when she grows up and build a career there. She loves helping people and hopes one day, her work will instill as much joy in people as it gives her in participating in the arts industry.

During our photo shoot, we kept on discussing and experimenting during the photo shoot. She helped me test my home studio environment and experiment with off-the-camera flashes. I am so glad to have worked with her and looking forward to working with her again in near future.
