My dream is to make it to the NBA someday, but I also get my work done in the classroom. I am 2 years ahead in my school studies and besides basketball, I also excel at parkour.

My basketball journey started on a local team at the age of 5. My Mom and Dad thought I would like to learn more advanced skills. They got me a DribbleUp basketball and I started practicing all the time and kept learning harder and harder combinations! Now I have out skilled most kids my age and enjoy playing with older ones.

I am currently homeschooled and do my work from a local basketball gym, so I can practice in between my learning sessions.

I really love this game.

I dream to one day model for Lane Bryant and have my own clothing line for all curvaceous people. My goal is to be featured on the runway during Fashion Week in Paris, my biggest challenge is getting adjusting to day to day life as just a woman and mother while my husband watches us from the above.

I'm Fatma Maleta 26 year old Model, Activist, Entrepreneur, Writer, Women Leadership and Empowerment Coach. My dream is to keep become an impactful woman .I am a Global Goodwill Ambassador, Served as Global Peace, Ambassador, Chapter chair for African Women Leadership Forum, Member for World Business Angels, Forbes nominee In humanitarian, UNHRO country director for Tanzania, G7 Country Director for Tanzania. I served as cofounder for Papillon Modelling Agency and took part in some beauty contest. I love fashion, arts, poetry and travel. I love what I do because I get to grow personally, professionally and it's pretty cool to network with world leaders, public figures, celebrities and all kinds of people. I love that it's ok to be ambitious as a woman and want the best for oneself. I have been inspired to take on this journey because growing in Tanzania, at certain times before, there were very few women in leadership roles, diplomacy and I just wanted to become that woman that inspires many more through her work. It can be difficult because of huge networking so keeping track of everything, can be hard, managing many things in a limited time can sometimes get out of hand. Balancing work and personal issues is very difficult but I'm coping with that

I got many great achievements, awards, nominations from globally aspects in countries like India, Morocco, Algeria, Egypt, Singapore, USA and many more. I'm so excited to see the woman I keep becoming but so far I love the woman I have become. She is courageous, strong, intelligent, ambitious and limitless. It's ok to dream big.

My name is Lindsay Machin, I'm 39 years old. I been modeling for about 15 plus years old now. Since I been modeling I've come across some amazing models and photographers that have welcomed me into the modeling world today. I love shooting all styles and concepts. My goals in my modeling life is to achieve greatly and make it into every magazine u can think of and possibly become a full time model and travel the world. One of my biggest things I love doing is once I get new ink, I love to show it off and make a story out of it through my modeling. I have come across many challenges; but I tell myself "There's no challenge that I can't handle". As long as u do your best and practice, the better you'll feel accomplished with the challenge and yourself when they come your way.

Sharhonda N Kirksey

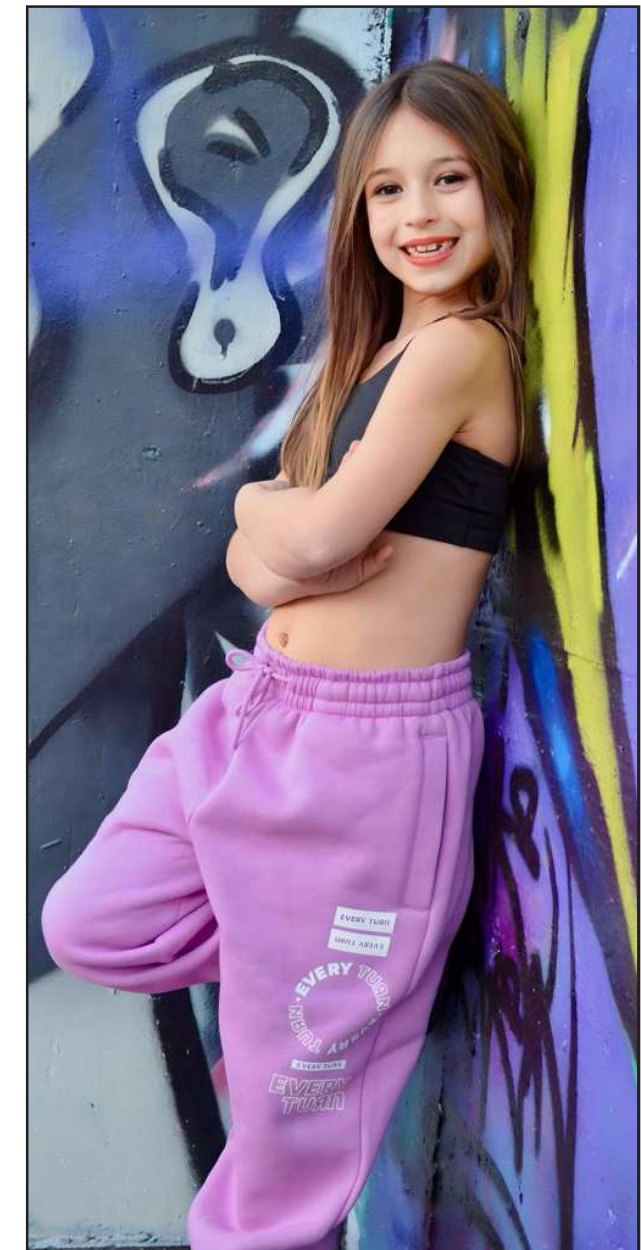

My name is Sharhonda Kirksey, I'm a widow now for 2 1/2 years and I've been on a journey at 43 years old, of redefining what life looks like after losing my spouse of 20 years. What's helped me along this journey is mental health therapy, grief support groups, friends, and family. My four children are all young adults, and have been my strength as I want to be an example for them that there's life after tragedy. I hope to inspire other people in general that no matter their life transition they can overcome it, and succeed. I believe my life is different now not only because tragedy changed me, but it was a spring board into my new life and I believe that's the best gift my late spouse could give me. Since my spouses death, I've grown, opened my own coaching practice called Good JuJu Coaching. I'm a certified life transitions coach assisting individuals gain tools to navigate successfully through life as challenges arise. I have also began to model, after a few photo shoots I saw the beauty I possessed, and the strength that I had. I wanted to share with others who needed inspiration, that I'm a picture of what Resilience looked like. Modeling also gives me a freedom, a voice, and a mirror to look into to remind me of who I am.

My name is Sawyer Lay, I'm 7 years old and I have been dancing since I was 2. I have been a competitive dancer for the last two years. I dance at MD Studios in Thomasville North Carolina. My passion for dance begin instantly. I train in all styles including jazz, hip hop and lyrical. I will be competing my very first solo in my upcoming competition. I love how dance gives you so much freedom to express yourself. Some achievements that I have made is my jazz group placed first overall in our category. I have been challenging myself to practice my technique and bettering my skills to help me become a better dancer. My goals are simple, I want to keep pushing myself to become all that I can be to better myself as a dancer and as a person. I have such a wonderful dance family. I'm grateful for my teachers who push me to my best potential even on the hard days. I will continue to chase my dreams one dance at a time.
