My name is Landon, and I began my competitive Jiu-Jitsu journey 1 year ago. I quickly fell in love with the dynamic world of martial arts and expanded my training to wrestling as well. I have been honored to win first place at Copa Virginia, New Breed, Charger Takedown and PBJJF competitions. Recently I was honored to go against some of the best in the country at ADCC and achieved a silver medal finish.

Winning tournaments, mastering intricate techniques and earning the respect of fellow fighters has aligned with my goals for this challenging sport. Of course, I have much to learn and there have been injuries and setbacks, but I always say a setback is merely a set up for a comeback. My favorite part is training with my coaches and teammates at American Top Team and Scanlon wrestling to further hone my skills. I condition with competitive swimming as well to ensure I stay in top physical shape.

The challenging world of martial arts is a competitive one but a journey I look forward to continuing.

My name is Maddox, and I started my journey to competitive martial arts 1 year ago specializing in Jui-jitsu and Wrestling. I have been honored to win first place at various Copa, PBJJF and Charger Take down tournaments and place in the top 2 at New Breed and Naga tournaments. I was especially excited to finish second at ADCC against some of the best fighters in the country.

Martial arts challenges me as the grueling training sessions and countless hours in the gym require sacrifice. However, training with my coaches and teammates and America Top Team and Scanlon Wrestling is rewarding and fun.

I continue to be fueled by the fire within to learn technique and continue this journey to become the best competitor I can be!

My name is Rene Calderin, and I am a 10-year-old solid grey belt in jujitsu. I am writing to introduce myself and share my passion for this incredible martial art.

I have been training in jujitsu for almost three years now, and I recently joined Vagner Rocha Martial Arts (VRMA) nine months ago. Since then, my journey has been nothing short of amazing. I have had the privilege of training with some of the best coaches in the world and alongside talented champions who inspire me every day.

In the past year, I have participated in various tournaments, and I am proud to say that I have won eight gold medals in NewBreed competitions and a gold and a silver medal in JJWL. Additionally, I had the honor of winning a gold medal in the prestigious ADCC tournament. These achievements have only fueled my determination to become a world champion in the future.

I firmly believe that dedication and sacrifice are the keys to success, not only in jujitsu but also in life. I am committed to putting in the hard work and pushing myself to new limits every day. I am grateful for the unwavering support of my number one fan and supporter, my Pops, who has been there for me every step of the way.

As I continue on this journey, I have a deep desire to share this incredible experience with my younger brother. I believe that together, we can achieve great things and become not only great competitors but also great people, just as my coach, Vagner Rocha, envisions.

Thank you for taking the time to read my introduction letter. I am excited about the future and the opportunities that lie ahead. I am determined to make my mark in the world of jujitsu and beyond, and I am grateful for any support or guidance you may offer along the way.

With warm regards,
