I always like to keep a few goals in life as I find it keeps you focused and hungry to better yourself. I have set many goals and hit them over the years (to be honest once I start something I get obsessive with it until it's finished) whether that's my makeup work I do for my business, editing a photo or finishing an online course (which I did many of over the lockdowns). When I first started modelling over ten years ago I never would have been dreamed to have over ten features in magazines let alone a cover! I had zero confidence when I first started modelling over ten years ago believe it or not and I am a strong believer that modelling helped boost my confidence...the little girl inside me is still internally screaming now. So for anyone that doesn't think they have the confidence for it just book a shoot and GO for it!!! :)

I am a chef, full time mom, dinning manager, and caregiver. I am cpr,first aid, bls, auto injector and Qmap certified. I had dreams to one day be on Broadway, walk the runway, be published, or be in big film. Now I dream of being able to give my kids the home they deserve and can make memories in and to have an amazing career either being a chef or model.

Brandi Cook

Brandi Cook is sexy, smart, loves the outdoors & traveling and has a sense of humor! Being called cute as a model so often Brandi adores being called sexy, and she's smart enough to know that she is. Brandi is a scientific researcher earning her Ph.D. in Chemistry from the University of South Florida, with Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Cellular, Molecular, and Microbiology already under her belt. She also enjoys teaching scientific subjects and has been a lecturer at USF motivating and inspiring students in biology & chemistry classes and labs.

Brandi has lived and traveled to different states throughout the United States and looks forward to exploring in other countries and getting to learn about cultures from their origins. She has lived in desert state of Arizona, mountainous state of Montana and near the eastern and western coasts in Florida and California respectively.

Brandi's passion for gaining cultural understanding may root from her Native American up bringing, which is a culture that has gone through historical pressures which has created individuals who possess great humor, like Brandi does. Brandi is always up for a good conversation and joke, even while modeling for the arts in body paint, she's always open for a good-hearted laugh and flattering compliment.

Sara Haber

Sara has been modeling for me for 4 years. It all started when I met her on Model Mayhem and she sent me a message wanting to work with me. She sent me a video of her catwalk for Model Casting and she passed the test. So she modeled for a Fashion Show where I showcased my collections it's entitled "Givin Me Life back in 2018 hosted by Donnetta Loper. She also modeled in all of my Virtual Fashion Shows including this year. So we have a tight working relationship. She has modeled all 32 outfits from me in all different clothing genres. I am so glad that I got the chance to work with her.

Crystal has been modeling for me for 2 years. I met her on Facebook and Instagram. She has been my Fashion Muse as well. She looks to me as her favorite Fashion Designer. She has been in my Virtual Fashion Show last year, her catwalk is fearless and flawless. She will be wearing more designs from me in the future. She has told me that my new designs that I have given her to model are in the works. There is more to come.

Modeling is just one of the many artistic expressions that I enjoy in life, others being music and drawing! I started five years ago in my mid-twenties, having finally listened to the many suggestions that I should give it a try, and I immediately loved it. My husband was the one who really helped me start my freelance modeling career and was my biggest supporter even while battling cancer for three years. As heartbreaking as it was to do all I could to help him and feel so powerless in those years, any day with him was a treasure, and modeling definitely always helped me feel more positive. After he passed, I lost one of my accounts and also had a very bad experience with an unprofessional photographer. I almost quit modeling and was having a hard time wanting to even be alive anymore. But a good friend wouldn't let me give up, helped me through my darkest days, and inspired me to be true to myself and keep pursuing art through modeling. I am forever grateful for him, and eventually came to find enjoyment in modeling again, find inspiration for art again, build my confidence back, and even- as much as I didn't think it possible- find love again. That good friend is now my life partner and we recently got each other rings for Christmas! (each surprising the other)

My goal in modeling, first and foremost, is to make art. Whether it's something fantastical, romantic, moody, weird, provoking, or whatever. I work with the photographer to embody their vision and bring it to life. I have learned so much about posing, reading the lighting, and composition, that sometimes photographers have told me I seem to read their minds. I now have a shelf-full of publications and my next goal is to create my own online space where I can share more of content without Instagram censorship. I also look forward to getting more into cosplay and expressing my nerdy side through modeling as well. I have been honored to meet and work with so many talented people and look forward to continuing to work with them and meet even more!
