Amanda White

I am not just a pretty face I also have a masters degree in social work and I am currently working on getting my LCSW so I can open up my own therapeutic practice. I plan on providing couples therapy in my private practice. A modeling goal for myself this year is to attend New York fashion week and walk down a runway for a swimwear line or lingerie line.

I started modeling later in life after losing weight and taking better care of my body. I hope to keep growing healthily and have fun doing it!

My good friend David Bauer, photographer at RollinArts and RollinArtsBoudoir photography took these photos for me. One thing that I love about working with DB is his creativity. Whenever we shoot together he has a vision and can lead me to pose to capture whatever he's looking for, but my most favorite is he never stops shooting. He catches all of those in-between poses that you might otherwise miss, the shots that show your true personality and emotion. At this shoot we had assistance from JRFLOWERZ, he came through with an extra battery and tunes with a speaker so that we were really just having a good time shooting. Thank you to both of you.

Melanie Bell

Thank you for the opportunity to be featured in your magazine.

I, Melanie Bell, am a free spirit that loves life and all the beauty it holds.

I have many goals and I am always finding another one to achieve. Presently I am working towards modelling and someday being a published model.

My greatest achievements so far is raising my three boys. Recently I achieved winning the title of Ms. Alberta and Ms. Canada 21/22. I always enjoyed being in front of the camera at a young age. I did however take 19 years off of modelling to raise my wonderful family.

Some of my challenges I have over come so far, were brain tumour surgery and being a domestic violence survivor.

I still have daily challenges such as continuing to holding a full time job while raising my three boys as a single mother. I work everyday at becoming a role model for other single mothers and my children's friends and families. Mental health, anxiety, and PTSD is a challenge I still face today. I have learned that these challenges will not let me stop from following my dreams. ♥
